V-COMM/HARRIS & ASSOCIATES ALLIANCE
ESTABLISHES A NEW LEVEL OF SUPPORT TO THE TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

WARMINSTER, Pa., Jan. 22, 1998 -- V-COMM -- a telecommunications engineering firm -- and Harris & Associates -- a telecommunications consulting firm -- today formed an alliance to become a single source of expertise for the financial and engineering arenas of the telecom industry.

“This Alliance increases productivity for both organizations,” said Dominic Vilecco, president of V-COMM. “Now we can provide the complete set of financial services that telecom providers need, enabling us to deliver a synergistic result that greatly benefits the operator.”

The Harris/V-COMM Alliance provides unparalleled consulting expertise by utilizing the combined operational experience of its principals and staff. The Alliance offers strategic planning, radio frequency, networking and interconnection engineering, market valuations, litigation support, operational performance analysis, project management and administrative systems analysis to telecom operators and financial institutions. The Harris/V-COMM Alliance services both international and domestic clients.
