V-COMM President Receives Alumnus Award from Drexel University

Philadelphia, PA (June 14, 2001) – V-COMM (www.vcomm-eng.com) president, Dominic C. Villecco, is the recipient of the prestigious “2001 distinguished Alumnus Award” presented by the Electrical and Computer Engineering (ECE) Department of Drexel University. The award is given to those alumni who have made outstanding accomplishments in their field.

“The university is honoring Dominic for making significant contribution to his profession and for his valuable work with Drexel University,” said Nihat Bilgutay, Professor and Head of Drexel Electrical and Computer Engineering Department

“I would like to thank all of the employees at V-COMM for their hard work in helping me provide support to the Drexel ECE Department,” said Mr. Villecco, President. “Without my team, this honor would not have been possible.”

The Drexel University ECE Department is widely recognized as an advanced facility with a staff dedicated to preparing students for a career in engineering through unique and challenging educational opportunities. V-COMM is a key resource for the ECE department by contributing to the preparation of students for careers in this exciting field. The company provides cooperative education opportunities to students as well as full-time positions that enable graduates to fully use the skills learned at Drexel. In addition, students benefit from the time and effort put forth by Mr. Villecco serving as a member of the ECE Department Board of Directors.

V-COMM, a leading provider of integrated network engineering, radio frequency engineering, and business services, delivers needed expertise and cost-effective solutions for wired and wireless operators and vendors. Company executives are sought-after expert witnesses providing testimony on telecommunications issues on local, regional and national venues. V-COMM has a growing staff of over 50 engineers and professionals in its Warminster, PA and Cranbury, NJ offices. For more information, visit us on the World Wide Web at www.vcomm-eng.com
